Why Pre-CTI, why now?

Evidence-based practice designed to:
- Support people through TRANSITIONS
- Build skills and networks of support
- Pre-CTI is the intervention designed for the front end

Helps people with high needs live successfully in the community and reduce returns to homelessness, use of institutions

Incorporates “Supporting EBP’s”
- Harm Reduction, Housing First, Person Centered Planning, Family Psychoeducation, Motivational Interviewing, Stages of Change

All good practices begin with Engagement
Engagement begins the first time you meet a person / family.

It begins wherever they enter the system.

Engagement is a way of being with people, it sets the tone for all future interactions.

We listen to each person's story, why they came to us, what their concerns are, what they want.

We evaluate each person / family, assessing what they tell us, where they live, how they interact with their surroundings.

We seek information from HMIS and other providers that have had interactions with each person or family.
Engagement Tips

- Be consistent, reliable, supportive
- Explain and re-explain (and re-explain) your role
- LISTEN for what each person is interested in, wants and needs
- Find something to work on together
- Present housing as a way to get wants, needs and goals met
- Help find some comfort and/or relief
- Keep showing up
Developing Relationships

- The first step is to engage and establish a working relationship
- Key to this is to identify what each person/family wants and tune into what they are feeling
- Once even small goals are established, engagement and the work begins
- As people achieve small things, confidence and trust grow and they can take on bigger things
- Building motivation for a home and connecting it to each person’s goals is the worker’s focus during engagement
Tasks during engagement

Common tasks

As part of the front end, you may be asked to do some of the following tasks

- Verify homelessness, and update homeless history
- Screen for Diversion/Problem-solving
- Complete Universal Data Elements if not collected
- Gather IDs and documentation (e.g. for Chronic Homelessness)
- Do a VI-SPDAT

- All tasks have to be explained and put in the context of the persons goals
Talk Housing...

What will it take?
What are the options?
What are the requirements?
What are your rights?
What are your responsibilities?
How does housing connect to what each person wants?
What is each person’s plan to end their homelessness.
Defining Goals

Goal Setting is the next stage of work.

Unless people see something they want and can relate to at the end of the process they will not be motivated to pursue it.

We want to educate people on what the options are and the expectations of each option.

Respect each person’s concept for housing, whatever that is (for example, “I want a voucher”)

Ask them the “so that” question – you want a voucher so that what happens?
Goals Breakout Discussions

- PLEASE TURN ON YOUR CAMERAS
- Share examples of goals people are setting.
- What are the reasons behind these goals?
  “So that” what?
- In other words, I want to ....... so that .......

Breakout

- Take the housing preference sheet and ask one member of your group to role play a family or individual
- Have the conversation around the preferences
  - what is it about the neighborhood that makes it the first choice?
  - Some things are negotiable some aren’t – next to my Mom who watches my kids is hard to negotiate, but things like I want a place with a kitchen, or I don’t want my kids to look poor... there may be other options.
- Start the process to negotiate preferences

Staff Roles in the Pre-CTI Phase

- The Pre-Housing phase is often time consuming.
- Each program will examine their resources and skills to see what can be accomplished.
- Tenancy courses are provided before housing so that people may prepare, however the materials will be repeated after housing.
- Assembling documents happens once a resource has been identified.
- Connections to resources and supports is often a shared task. Depending on the connection to the resource, individual / family need, and preference.
- Increasing income is a priority. Some programs recommend that people are connected to benefits and employment resources in the first month of contact.
- All programs should review new families / individuals with the coordinated access group to ensure continuity, identification of needs and a path to the most effective service for each person.
